Volunteer to mentor on our six-month scheme to:
– Share your knowledge and experience
– Encourage a young person to achieve their potential
– Broaden your own skills and judgment
– Meet other professionals

You are invited to take part in Kingston University’s Beyond Barriers Mentoring Scheme as a mentor. The scheme helps second year, third year and postgraduate students from traditionally under-represented groups achieve their full potential through a tailored one-to-one relationship. You can support the students by offering impartial guidance, encouraging new experiences and positive choices, and helping to inspire self-confidence.

The scheme runs from October to May and only requires a commitment of two hours per month. You should have more than three years of professional experience. Full training is provided and, in recognition of your contribution, mentors’ and mentees’ participation is celebrated at a special event.

Joining Beyond Barriers was the best decision I made! Thanks to the scheme I was given the opportunity to work with my mentor to achieve my goals and discover what is out there for me once I graduate. This journey and experience have been remarkable. He helped me see my true potential and I am truly honoured to have worked with such a great person.

Anell Enning, International Relations with Television Broadcasting Media student

Mentoring has been a richly rewarding experience. It was a great opportunity to help my mentee along her career path a little and was satisfying to guide her toward the future she is aiming at. It has been great to use my skills and experience in a slightly different way, to watch someone progress and grow, and help the next generation of graduates.
